RECRUITMENT

Date: June 1, 2023

I am a doctoral learner under the direction of Dr. Dawn Molton in the College of Doctoral studies at Grand Canyon University. My name is Adefunke Omo-Osagie. I am conducting a research study to find out how oncology nurses describe compassion fatigue. I will look closely at what it means to them. I will also examine what they think are the causes.

You can join in this study if you meet the criteria:

- Oncology nurse.
- Currently work as an oncology nurse.
- Work in Houston, Texas.
- Have experienced compassion fatigue.
- Willing to answer required personal, identifiable, demographic questions related to compassion fatigue.

You cannot join in this study if:

- You are not an oncology nurse.
- You are not currently working as an oncology nurse.
- You do not work in Houston, Texas.
- You have not experienced compassion fatigue.
- You are not willing to answer required personal, identifiable, demographic questions related to compassion fatigue.

The activities for this research project will include:

- Answering questions about your experiences of compassion fatigue.
- Participating in either:
 - 1:1 interview (45 to 60 minutes).
 - Focus group session with 5-7 participants (about 90 minutes).
- Answering personal identifiable questions such as age, gender, employment status, level of education, employment status, years of experience, and area of practice.

Your input in this study is voluntary.

The protection of all data in this study will occur by keeping the data in a password protected cabinet for 3 years. Only the researcher will know the password to the locked cabinet.
